Is Progressive Movement Not A Class Organization

The Chauvin District U.F.A. met at Chauvin, Saturday afternoon. Representatives from Butze, Roros, S. Jean and Edinglassie being present, and J. Craddock, president with P. H. Perry, secretary.

The matter of telephone service to the Chauvin depot was further discussed and it was decided to further seek the co-operation of the Central U. F. A. in this matter.

Several matters of current interest were discussed, and the opinion that the association was a progressive institution rather than a class organization was expressed by the delegates present. It was recommended that in the event of friction because of political differences that the political work be strictly confined to the political association. It was recommended that delegates make this recommendation to their locals.

It was decided to hold the next meeting Saturday December 3rd. In the opinion of the delegates present, it is highly desirable that the work of the district association should continue to be carried on, but it was, likewise, desirable that a greater interest and more co-operation be given by the various locals. Further discussion on the various phases of this question are expected at the next meeting.

The annual meeting will be held on Saturday, December 17th.

Homemade Costumes Predominate At Masquerade Ball

Armistice Day was observed publicly in Chauvin in the form of a Masquerade Ball held under the auspices of the Chauvin G. W. V. A., in the Oddfellows Hall.

Many and varied were the charming costumes worn by both ladies and gentlemen present. This year, it was to be noticed, there was an almost entire absence of hired costumes, and may we add, the charm of the ball suffered not at all from this. On the other hand the enjoyment of the evening was much greater from this very reason. In the space at our disposal we cannot do justice to these costumes by describing them all, but it is needless to say that the task of the judges was a very difficult one. Mesdames H. N. Freeman, D. MacDonald and S. H. Davies acted as judges for the ladies costumes; whilst Messrs H. Black, C. Stewart and E. C. Gilliat were judges of the gents costumes. The following prizes were awarded:—

LADIES

1st: Mrs J. P. StPierre, (squaw)
2nd: Mrs A. Irvine (poppy)

GENTS

1st: J. Murray (Little Boy Blue)
1st Original: C. Smith
1st Comic: R. J. Sharpe

A very pleasant night was spent by all present, and we trust that the Chauvin G. W. V. A. will find a sufficient balance, after expenses are paid, to meet some of the cost of their hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beattie have taken up residence at the telephone office.

New National Policy

Enthusiastic Meeting At Fram School

The schoolhouse of Fram was packed to the doors last Tuesday afternoon when the opening of N.N.P.-P.A. campaign took place. If the same enthusiasm prevails throughout the tour of the Battleford constituency to be made by Mr. T. H. McConica, the result of at least, this election is a foregone conclusion. This meeting was the first of many, and the nominee is accompanied by Mr. C. Bingham M.L.A., Mr. C. C. Stoliker (Secretary of the Battleford Constituency). The meeting was started prompt on time and the chair was taken by Mr. K. W. Coe. The first speaker was Mr. Stoiker who gave a resume of the origin of the New National Policy. He traced the movement from its inception to the present time and held his audience from first to last. He was succeeded Bingham whose splendid address was followed with great interest by an attentive crowd. It was Mr. McConica however who put the finishing touch to a most enjoyable and instructive afternoon. In his criticisms of the two old parties Mr. McConica made some wonderful points. He left no doubt in the minds of anyone present as to his attitude toward the re-establishment of the Wheat Board. His trouncing of the policy of Mr. MacKenzie King was only surpassed by the stinging rebukes, and the bitter denunciation of the pie-crust promises of the Hon. Arthur Meighen. This calm cool reassuring of the troubles of the western farmer gripped his audience with an intensity that any arguments put forward by his opponents cannot shake. The question of western "loyalty," according to Mr. Meighen's standard, received its just reward when Mr. McConica gave it the lie direct. His closing remarks asking his audience to support him in the forthcoming election, were greeted with loud applause. A vote of thanks moved by Mr. Jas Gordon was given with cheers for the candidate. Thus the New National Policy, represented by Mr. McConica was given a splendid send off by the people of this district.

Crowds Assemble To See Exhibits

The exhibition held in the Hudson Bay store in Edmonton, of fine art work which has won prizes at the local fairs, was a great success. The ample window space of this store was heavily taxed and the exhibits were viewed by crowds that impeded progress along the sidewalks, so great did the interest prove. The whole province was represented, each town being given due individual window space for its collection.

The Chauvin exhibits have been returned safely, and the organizers express their thanks for the co-operation of the workers in this district.

Ribstone W.I. Notes

The Ribstone Auxiliary are arranging for a Sunday School Christmas tree, together with a concert, on Thursday, Dec. 22nd, in the Municipal Hall. Everybody welcome.

HOW CANADA IS GOVERNED

CHAPTER III

DOMINION FRANCHISE OR VOTERS' QUALIFICATIONS

Previous to 1885, the franchise for the several provincial legislatures was the franchise for the house of commons, but in that year, after a very protracted debate, an electoral franchise act was passed by parliament for the whole Dominion.

The franchise was somewhat complicated in its details and very expensive in its machinery, and was abolished in 1898 by the Laurier Liberal Government, which again adopted the provincial franchises for the purposes of dominion elections, with the exception of what is now the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and the Yukon.

Under the present law manhood suffrage qualified by residence and British citizenship, and subject to certain laws as to registration, practically exists in all the provinces.

Quebec, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island require a small property, or income qualification, but so small, as to practically to exclude no one. The judges, returning officers at elections and election clerks are, however, disfranchised in the public interest to keep them free from political partizanship.

In Ontario, Manitoba, British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan women have been given the right to vote on the same terms as men, and in the course of a few years this extension of the franchise will no doubt be universal throughout Canada.

In 1917 the Dominion parliament passed an Election Act which is to continue in force during the war, under which women, being British subjects and having the qualifications as to age, race, and residence required for male voters, who are the wives, widows, mothers, sisters, and daughters of any person, male or female, living or dead, who is serving or has served without Canada in any of the military forces, or within or without Canada in any of the naval forces of Canada or Great Britain during the war are to have the right to vote.

The female relatives of those who have left any of the forces discredibly are excepted from the privilege and the privilege does not extend to relatives of members of the naval forces engaged within Canada who entered the service after the date of the act, i.e., 20th September 1917.

A statute was also passed in 1917 providing for the taking of the votes of British subjects, male or female, of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, the Royal Canadian Navy, the Canadian Militia on active service, the Royal Canadian Volunteer Reserve, and of British subjects who, while within Canada, entered the British Royal Flying Corps, Royal Naval Air Service, Auxiliary Motor Boat Patrol Service, or, being ordinarily resident in Canada, are on active service in Europe in the naval or military forces of the King or any of the King's allies.

Such an elector is to have a vote in the electoral district in which he or she last continually resided during the last four months of the twelve

Armistice Day Is Observed By A Church Parade

Fifty-seven men of the 19th Alberta Dragoons attended the church parade at Chauvin, Sunday afternoon, November 13th. Major Strachan, V.C. in command, with Lt. J. A. MacKenzie as officer of the day, Sgt-Mjr K. W. Coe, N.C.O. in charge and Orderly Sgt G. M. Beattie.

The squadron fell in at the G. W. V. A. hall in drill order, and marched to the Oddfellows Hall, in which divine service was held. The hall was filled to capacity, the sets on the left being occupied by the Dragoons and the remaining space being taxed to accommodate the public, of whom there was a large number present.

The platform was occupied by Capt. K. C. MacLeod, Rev. Huet and Rev. Millar. Capt. MacLeod, who officiated, had kindly come down from Edmonton in response to the invitation of the squadron. He was an overseas padre, seeing service in France with the 85th battalion. His visit was of special interest because he was able to renew acquaintances with quite a number of the boys.

In the course of his address, he commended Chauvin on being successful in raising more men for the 19th, than they had found it possible to do Edmonton during the past year. Soldering, he said, did not make a man keen to take the life of his fellow man, it made a man more manly. The men who had been through the Great War had by their experiences become more full of sympathy, they had learned the worth of honor, they had learned the worth of honor, and they sought to be true and were anxious to be of service to their country. Speaking of those who laid down their lives in the Great War, he said, the soldier has no tears for himself in his death, he fears not death, his tears were only for those he left behind, mothers, sisters, wife and children. They sacrificed in our interests, and we should prove ourselves worthy of them by making our homes and our country so worthy that a man would willing fight for them, and that our children may be a credit to those who have passed.

He spoke of the past war as being the last to be waged under the old conditions. In the past men had met and fought face to face. In this war unseen messengers of death had smitten the soldier down. In the future wars scientific devices would deal death to thousands,—to combatants and non-combatants alike, to the women and children as well as the men. He urged his hearers to develop the true spirit of service to their country, by tackling the problems of peace in a disciplined, unselfish and manly manner as soldiers for their country's welfare.

Rev. Huet at the invitation of Capt MacLeod spoke briefly, referring to his three years experience in the French army and expressing his admiration of the gallantry of the allied armies in the war and spoke of the equally important duties to one's country in times of peace.

Rev Millar also expressed his appreciation of Capt MacLeods address and emphasized the remarks of the previous speakers.

Mr. Charles Kirby returned from Edmonton Saturday.

Capt. K. C. McLeod Gives Startling Figures In His Sermon

2600 Children Now Being Cared For
By Dept. FOR Neglected Children
—Home The True Training Centre

Capt. MacLeod preached at the Westminster Church last Sunday evening to a congregation that completely filled the building. Many of those present coming in from the country. His subject was a plea on behalf of our children. Speaking as official of the Alberta Dept for care of Neglected Children, he said that there were at present over 2600 of these unfortunate children under the care of this department. This included many blind, deaf and dumb children who were being educated by the department of education. There are some 1100 children of widowed mothers under the care of his department. The department endeavoured always to keep the children at their own homes, or with foster parents, rather than placing them in institutions. Experience having demonstrated the value of home training.

The danger period in the life of the young to-day was between the ages of 12 and 16 years, being greatest at the centre of this period. The chief delinquency being theft, which constituted 95 per cent of the offences which they had to deal with.

He instanced the case of two boys who came from a wretched home and who were costing the province no less than $2300 per year to keep them in a proper place and give them a training. He emphasized strongly the necessity of good homes for the children and urged upon his hearers the duty of making good homes for their children. The work of the high school, the public school, the Sunday school were all important, but they could not take the place of home training.

As the infant, in its instinctive desire to grow, seizes everything and endeavours to put it into its mouth; so the growing child, through eyes and ears, endeavours to collect information from all around it; and it copied what it saw—not knowing the right from wrong. It was the duty of parents to explain and teach the child the difference between right and wrong. It was the duty of parents to love their children—not a false sentiment—but a love which will not shrink from labor and sacrifice, a love that will punish wrong and reward right, a love which will last through life as a great regenerative and saving force. We are as good as we are because of our early training we received, and we owe it to our children that they receive the same parental home training. Our children will reflect what we and our district are, therefore the imperative duty of home training.

Prompt Action Saved Oddfellows Hall

The prompt action of Mr J. A. Code, last Sunday afternoon, saved the I. O. O. F. hall from being burned to the ground. Some hot ashes had set fire to the woodwork by the backdoor, a two inch plank being burned through before Code discovered it—BEWARE OF HOT ASHES.

months immediately preceeding his enlistment, or if he cannot specify such a district, then in an electoral district within which he has at any other time resided, or if because of non-residence or otherwise he cannot specify such a district, then, within such electoral district as he may choose.

The returning officers in Canada send a return of the votes cast in their electoral district for that purpose. The number of votes cast by the soldiers and others are sent by cable to the general returning officer, and he, after adding up the total votes cast in Canada, and by the troops, declares who are elected.

Voting by ballot prevails throughout Canada in provincial as well as

HOW ELECTIONS ARE HELD

General elections are held on the same day throughout the dominion; exception, however, is made in the case of such large, remote districts as Skeena, West Kootenay and Cariboo, in the province of British Columbia, and Gaspe, Chitoutimi and Saguenay, in the province of Quebec where the returning officer fixes the day. Under the War Times Elections Act this exception is, however, done away with while the war lasts, except with respect to the Yukon.

When a general election has been decided on at a cabinet meeting, the premier so advises the governor-general and if the latter sees no constitutional objection, parliament is dissolved by a proclamation in the name of the king, who alone can summon.

Another proclamation authorizes the issue of the writs of election, or order to the returning officer in each constituency or district that elects a member, fixing the date of the nomination of candidates and the date when the returning officers are to make their returns.

Any twenty-five electors may nominate a candidate for the house of commons by signing a paper in the form required by law, and depositing $300 with the returning officer, who returns the same to the candidate in case of his election or of his obtaining at least one-half of the votes polled in favor of the candidate elected, but otherwise the deposit goes into the public revenues. When there is no opposition to a candidate he is declared duly returned by the returning officer at the close of the time allowed for nominations.

In case of an election, it takes place, except in the remote and thinly settled districts mentioned above, on the seventh day after nomination day, or on the following day when the seventh is Sunday or a statutory holiday. The places where the votes are taken are duly advertised under the law, and proper means taken to secure a full and correct poll. All votes are taken by ballot.

In each polling place, except in Prince Edward Island, there is a list of persons qualified to vote at the election, and when the name of a person presenting himself to vote is found herein, he receives a ballot paper from the deputy returning officer, on the back of which the latter has put his initials previously, so that they can be seen when the ballot is folded.

On the back of the counterfoil attached to each ballot there is placed a number corresponding with one placed opposite the voter's name in the poll book.

In Prince Edward Island there are voters' lists. The population is small and rural, and therefore it is easy to identify the voters. During the war, however, lists are made for Prince Edward Island under the War Times Elections Act.

The elector then proceeds alone into one of the compartments of the polling place, where he can secretly mark his ballot paper. He makes a cross with his black lead pencil within the white space in the division containing the name of the candidate for whom he has decided to vote.

In case there are two members to be returned for the district—as in the case of the city of Ottawa, for instance—he makes a mark opposite each of the two names of his chosen candidates.

He then folds up the ballot paper so that the initials and stamps on the back, and number on counterfoil, can be seen without opening it.

He must hand the paper, so folded, to the returning officer, who examines the initials, stamp, and number on counterfoil, so that he may ascertain if it is the same paper he gave the elector. If it be so, he tears off and destroys the counterfoil, and places the ballot paper in the ballot box provided for that purpose, in the presence of the voter.

At the close of the poll or voting, the poll is open from 9 o'clock in the morning without interruption until 5 o'clock in the afternoon of election day, the deputy returning officer in each polling place opens the box, counts the ballots, and places his statement of the number of ballots paper and all papers in his possession relating to the election, in the ballot box, which he locks and seals and sends to the chief returning officer.

The latter opens all the boxes, and sums up the votes for each candidate as given in the statement of his deputies. He declares the candidate having the majority of votes duly elected; but in the case of an equality or tie of votes, he gives an additional or casting vote to decide the election.

Immediately after the sixth day after the final addition of votes of the respective candidates, unless before that time he receives notice that there is to be a recount of votes by a judge, he must transmit his return to the clerk of the crown in chancery at Ottawa.

The clerk of the crown thereupon publishes the names of the members elect in the Canada Gazette, the official paper of the Dominion.

Chauvin Flour Mill Is Operating Daily

The Chauvin flour mill is steadily working every day now. It is under the management of the new proprietor, Mr. G. G. Shantz. Mr Dables is still associated with the mill, and some very fine flour is being turned out by the mill, which is in an excellent condition and the best of running order.

A bushel of wheat can be gristed for .40c. From a bushel of wheat 40 pounds of flour is obtained, and 18 pounds of bran and shorts. Thus, at the cost of $1.00 you will get 100 lbs of flour, together with 45 pounds of bran and shorts from 2½ bushels of wheat. This represents a saving that is thoroughly worth while.

Dragoons Enjoy Chicken Supper

The 19th Alberta Dragoons were the guests of Mr Clifford, at his restaurant, Chauvin, to a banquet, Monday evening. Forty-two men sitting at his well-laden and decorated tables.

The menu was as follows:

Hors d'Oeuvre,
Sardines au Cornupee

Apple Fritters, sauce douce

Gateau au Creme au Ceurre Tartalettes with Raspberry and Whipped Cream
Cherry Jelly and Whipped Cream
Canadian Cheddar and Crackers
Assorted Fruits
Tea and Coffee

J. A. MacKenzie, toastmaster proposed a toast to The King, which was heartily responded to. A short programme of speeches, songs and recitations followed, in which C. Ryall, G. M. Beattie, K. W. Coe, W. Cubitt, A. E. Pitman, A. Clifford, H. Foxwell, L. D'Albertanson, H. Black, C. Kirby, W. Ellis took part. Lack of space prevents us from giving the speeches in detail, but the united tenor of them was one of appreciation to the host, and a desire that a monthly meeting of similar nature during the winter months be arranged. Armistice day had been observed most appropriately by the three functions—ball Friday, church parade Sunday and this banquet. It was desirable to maintain the friendly spirit of competition between the two troops and to bear in mind at all times that the honor and credit of the regiment as a whole should be the object this competition should attain. References were made to the part our local boys had played in the great War and of the necessity of honoring the memory of their brave deeds by "Carrying on"

C. Ryall struck an appropriate chord of sentiment by his adapted poem:—

A mother's gift to her country's cause
Is a story yet untold.

She had three sons, her only ones,
Each worth his weight in gold:

But she gave them up for the sake of war,

With a heart that is filled with pain.
As each went away, she was heard to say:

He'll ne'er return again.

One sleeps down at Ypres,

Many miles away.

Another sleeps at Vimy Ridge,

And both wore suits of Khaki.

Mid the strains of Annie Laurie,

The Gordon piper's play

In a trench—along the Somme,

The third Canadian lay.

She's alone tonight, while the stars shine bright,

With a heart that's filled with dismay
On that Great Day I'll hear her say:

My three boys will be there,

Perhaps on watch at the Heavenly
Gates,

On guard beside the guns,

Then the mother, true to the red,
white and blue,

Will enter with her sons.

Refrain 'One sleeps down at Ypres,

The program was brought to a conclusion by G. M. Beattie who recited "Play the Game."

Lealholme U. F. W. A

A motion to adjourn was then put and withdrawn by consent of the movers.

Miss Miller—Miss Martin: That the secretaries of the U.F.A. W.A. and the Jr.F.A. co-operate in purchasing a gramophone. Carried

The next meeting will be a social evening, Friday, November 25th.

The next business meeting will be held Friday December 9th

Postponement

The basket social and dance announced for Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, has been postponed until Friday November 18th 1921..

This has been done in order that the returned soldiers may have no opposition from this association to their dance to be held in Brady School on November 11th.

The Spinster Return To Ribstone, Nov. 21

The Ribstone W.I. held their meeting on Saturday November 5th in the Municipal Hall. There was a good attendance and a pleasant afternoon was spent. Secretary was authorised to pay various little debts which were brought forward.

The Institute decided to put on a play namely "The Spinsters Return" on November 21st in the Municipal "The Spinsters Return" on November 21st in the Municipal Hall at 8 p.m.

ARTLAND ARGUS

The danger of playing with fireworks has been demonstrated in an unfortunate manner in Chauvin during the past week. Wednesday afternoon last Henry StPierre, a boy of about seven years of age was, like many of the other boys in town at that time, firing small Chinese crackers. One of these exploded in his hands, and blew into his face and eyes. For a time it seemed as if his eyeballs and sight were injured, but we are glad to report that the sight has not been destroyed. At this writing, six days later, one eye is considerably better, but the other eye is still in a badly inflamed condition.

The dance given in honor of the Brady returned soldiers was a large success in every way. There was a good crowd, notwithstanding the fact that a dance was held in Cliffe school on the same date. Fram G. G. A. postponed their Box Social and Dance on account of its being Armistice day which was very kind of them, but they conceded that that day should be devoted to any functions given for our returned soldiers. The music was ably rendered by Mr F. Scott, violinist and various others presiding at the organ during the evening. The dance began at about nine o'clock and continued till twelve, when everyone enjoyed the ample supper provided by the ladies. The Ladies Aid then passed cigars to the returned men and apples to all present. A few stump political speeches were indulged in to the vast amusement of everybody, then dancing was resumed till three o'clock, and all went home, saying that they had enjoyed the dance immensely. We are looking forward to the yearly occurrence of a soldiers dance, on Armistice day of course.

A slight mistake was made in last week's Argus, in dating the Artland read December 9th, please take notice read December 9th please take notice. Don't forget to come. Everybody is welcome.

Miss E. Tiedt returned home on November 8th from Venn, where she has been staying this summer. She intends spending the winter at home.

Mr C. Reynolds has returned home after his fall's threshing.

Mr. V. Clark has had his father staying with him.

Mrs A. Clifferd is on a visit to her daughter, Mrs John Hilliker.

Mrs J Gordon, wife of our local tankman, has been quite ill but is on the road to recovery again.

Mrs A. C. Rose has also been suffering from a severe cold and is just beginning to be herself again.

Conservatism

Gone Crazy

The Editor: Chauvin Chronicle

Dear Sir:

I have been following with interest the various contributions of a political nature, which have been appearing in your columns for some time. Some of them have amused, others have disgusted me, whilst a few have really taught me something, and shedsome much needed light for me, on matters political

I lay no claim to being a politician, or of having a wide or accurate knowledge of all the latest political events, and its frenzied moves and counter-movs, of the different parties with their lightning changes of platform, tactics and slogans. To any intelligent person these are so obviously for the purpose of catching the popular vote.

I am a plain every day working farmer, without any desire for the notoriety which comes from mixing in political squabbles; and it only because I have not yet seen in your paper the viewpoint of such sa myself; "The man in the fields" as it were; that I am making so bold as to enter the lists of political ink-slingers—I almost said mud-slingers.

In your last week's issue there are two letters; discussing the "Farmers' Movement" One of them entitled—Some things we do know—is a plain statement of facts, and personal opinions and as such is quite logical, and not calculated to give offense. The other—A method in our madness—is of an entirely different order.

It starts by trying to exonerate Premier Meighen, for his unstatesmanlike and unsportsmanlike remark about the 'foreign' origin of the Wood Crear movement. Even if Mr Meighen was correct which he is not, is it any reason why one should repudiate a movement, or anything else for that matter just because it did not originate at home? Certainly not; that is Conservatism gone crazy

Let the Wood-Crear movement stand or fall by its own worth; for if we had the plan of rejecting anything 'foreign'; however good it was, we should still be in the stone age;—howling savages;—or at least in the position of the Chinese with their traditional hatred of anything not Chinese; but they have had sense enough to get over that. Evidently the writer of the article in question has not reached that stage of tolerance, by which alone progress has come in the past, and can come in the future.

Again he criticizes Mr. Crerar for his interest in the source of the Government campaign funds; and with what he thinks is logic, thereby condemns him as "one with a 'snoopy' turn of mind," or a tendency towards crookedness? This is nonsense, as well call a man 'snoopy' or a 'crook' because he is curious to see one whose honesty he has reason to doubt flashing a huge roll of bills, when he knows that the person (in this case the government) is as hard up as can be;—in debt head over heels, and not long ago whining about it, and making the excuse for not giving his soldier sons a decent start in life they returned wounded and weakened by four odd years of fighting for him.

The writer also wants to hear what plans Mr. Crerar has towards the various farmer interests. If he reads the newspaper reports of Mr. Crerar's plans as carefully as he evidently does those of Mr. Meighen he will find as the writer of 'Some Things We Want To Know' observed, that Crerar is the only one of the three party leaders who has any definite policy.

The next insinuation about Free Trade increasing unemployment is as logical as the rest of his arguments. He asks how Free Trade can avoid causing unemployment. We will give him a Scotsman's answer by asking him how it will. He is so good asking questions, let him answer a few himself and tell us some things for a change, straight for-wardly and not by the old trick method of asking catch questions. For one thing Free Trade will tend to keep Canadian manufacturers from closing down their plants and throwing thousands out of work in order to keep up high prices by lack of production.

In the next paragraph he accuses Crear and presumably the 'National Progressives' of not wishing a Wheat Board, etc., etc., This is so obviously incorrect that it is hardly worth comment.

Next he accuses Crerar and his party of being backed by U. G. G. funds. This, we believe is utterly false, and would like to see him prove his statement. The origin of the campaign funds for the N. P. Party, has never been kept secret. The farmers are paying their own way and have nothing to hide, which is more than can be said for their opponents. I will pass by the other minor assertions for which no proof is offered, and tackle the latter portion of the article, where he has devoted tempting to prove that a lawyer, and a lawyer only is the only person really qualified to set in Parliament! Ye Gods what next?

In his attempt to do this he brings forward the old sophistry of, 'argument by analogy'; a schoolboys trick, trick, for any debater knows that analogies are always more or less misleading, otherwise there were no need of them. He asks; if a farmer had a lawsuit pending, or a wife needing an operation; whether he would not call in a lawyer or a doctor as the case might be; rather than a fellow farmer or his wife. From what we have observed of some lawyers and their fees and also of some doctors, perhaps he would be just as well.

But that is not the point; let me answer the argument again by a counter question. If the writer is a farmer, and I presume he is; and had an agricultural problem confronting him, would he call on friend lawyer or friend doctor to advise him?—hardly. Then why try to argue that the lawyer is the only man fit to legislate agricultural problems, of which he understands little and in which he maw have no interest.

Yet the author of 'A Method In Our Madness'; has the nerve to assert that a lawyer is the only man to represent 'a purely agricultural riding'. In fact in his enthusiasm for Mr. Morrison he is misled into adopting specious arguments which if correct;—thank heaven they are not,—would lead to the logical conclusion that we should have a legislature composed entirely of lawyers, without exception! He thereby reduces his argument to an absurdity, for I need not enlarge on what that would be like; I can see you smile.

What if the farmers do not see Ottawa as a fire? We do not want blazes or other spectacular stuff. We have had quite enough of that, what we want is honest and earnest legislation.

This we have not been able to secure in the past or we would not be in the field now. The Farmers were forced into politics in self defense as everyone knows. Let us ignore the backsliders and renegades in our ranks with their devious arguments.

We are in the political field for better or for worse; let us stick together, for if we falter or back out now, we will set the Farmers' cause back a hundred years,

Yours truly,
THE MAN IN THE FIELDS.

Shabby Treatment
Meted To Women
At District Court

The Editor Chauvin Chronicle.
Dear Sir,

I wish through you to inform the public about the treatment received by the foreign born women who attended Judge Taylor's Court at Chauvin seeking voting certificates. The day set was November 10th. A list of applicants had been sent to the Clerk of the Court at Edmonton and a reply was received that it would be satisfactory for these women to make application before the Judge at Chauvin on that day.

The women sat in the court room from the time the court opened until the last judicial case was heard which was half past six when the Judge refused to hear them and gathering up his papers he rushed past them out of the room taking the train for the West.

All the women had driven considerable distances to get these certificates, some as far as fifty miles.

They did not receive justice and were not even treated with ordinary courtesy.

Is this the way to make good new Canadians?

Is this a scheme of the present government to disenfranchise these foreign born women?

What is to prevent the same occurrence at other points along the line?

Thanking you for the space in your paper.

I remain,
Yours very sincerely
(MRS. W. S. MURRAY, Sec.
Winona U.F.W.A.)

Examine Your Horses Teeth

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL
FARMERS

At this time of the year many horses take sick with a serious type of indigestion, and very often the cause is bad teeth.

Be sure that your horses' teeth are in good condition: it will repay you many times the expense.

From this date, and until November 30th, will attend at the Chauvin Livery Barns for the purpose of inspecting horses' teeth, and will make the operation of teeth dressing for the sum of seventy-five cents for each animal so treated.

I possess all the modern instruments for this operation, and will guarantee first class work.

The secretary was appointed to buy for the municipality at the Tax Sale on Nov. 15th 1921

On nomination day, December 5th 1921, a meeting of ratepayers will be called to order at 10.00 a.m., for the purpose of hearing read the interim financial statement and to discuss municipal matters in general. This meeting will be held in the Cliffe school (N.W. 31-44-26-3).

The meeting adjourned on motion at 6.10 p.m.

handed round, as were cigars and fruit. Speaking on this matter Mr. Kendal W. Coe in thanking the ladies on behalf of the returned men, reminded all of the day they were celebrating, and that thus far Brady had always recognised this day as the returned mans day, and he hoped they would continue to do so. Mrs. Watson (President of the Ladies Aid) suitably responded. During the interval the coming election cropped up and a few remarks on the subject were contributed by Messrs Geo. Lawson, Jas. W. Coe, K. W. Coe, and Alan Marshall. Dancing was then resumed and carried on until the early hours of the morning. Brady school has been the scene of many past triumphs in the art of enjoyable evenings, and this latest effort can be compared favorably with its best.

record time. So be there and enjoy the fun.

The children of Fram School certainly had the patriotic spirit when they all sported the poppy on Armistice day. The poppies were the gift of Messrs R. Hanson and K. W. Coe. The visit of the Progressive candidate caused quite a stir and Mr. McConica has a splendid send off in his campaign.

District Court Is Held At Chauvin

A sitting of the the district court was made in Chauvin, Thursday, 10 November in the Oddfellow hall.

Judge Taylor presided. Lawyers MacKenzie, Boyd, May and Field-hause were present on behalf of their clients. The hall being filled with witnesses and the public. There were also a number of ladies waiting to obtain certificates to enable them to vote at the coming election. Unfortunately, for the later, the court was too busy to attend to their request could not find time to give them the necessary attention, and they did not obtain the papers they were seeking.

The first case on the docket was that of Gifford vs Staley. This case centered on the non-payment by Staley of commission to Gifford for the sale of the South half of 27-42-3 to F. Reinhart. After hearing the evidence Judge Taylor reserved his judgment.

The second case was that of Ernst vs Beadle, of Seattle. Ernst claimed $90, being the balance due to him on 120 acres of plowing at $3.00 per acre on some land leased from the defendant from July 1920 to Dec. 1921. The owner had taken advantage of the clause in the lease permitting him to sell the land. Ernst had done the plowing in accordance with the terms of the lease with set the figure at $3 per acre. The defendant had paid only $270 for the plowing and withheld the balance of $90, claiming certain damage done by Ernst. Judgment for the complainant Ernst and Beadle ordered to pay the $90.

The last case was that of the Crown vs. Buck. Buck was charged with wilfully wounding a cow July 15th. The preliminary hearing was given at Chauvin shortly after the event. The principal witnesses for the crown were three members of the W. Car-gill family and a constable, also Farrel. H. P. May, for the crown urged that a strong chain of circumstantial evidence had been presented but Judge Taylor dismissed the case.

Foreign born women who require certificates for voting can obtain them from the District Court judges who will be sitting at Lloydminster November 19th and at Wainwright, December 1st. Communicate with the secretary of your U.F.A. local at once.

Look who's here making political speeches in our peaceful Battle river riding!

No less than the Rev. Wm Ivens, of Winnipeg strike fame, who lately did 'time' in a Manitoba jail, for inciting to lawlessness and revolutionary tactics.

This is surely 'tough' on the Grain Growers Guide which certainly treated the truth carelessly after the provincial election in trying to give the Wainwright constituency U.F.'s a clean bill of health against the charges of harboring seditionists in their party. It will have to write out another health certificate right away, and give the ubiquitous William a gentle hint that:—we're not ready yet for the Soviet system in Battle river—that we have no use for men who would starve a whole city, hold up transportation and risk unlimited destruction and bloodshed, in an effort to thrust Sovietism on Winnipeg and all of Canada.

But meantime, we'd like to know where persons of the Iven's order get the idea that their ideals of government are suited to the U.F. party; (strange to say we don't find them having the courage to spout their poisonous stuff in either of the old line parties). Is it that this group idea finds favor in their eyes. as a means to the end they desire?

The Rev. Ivens, is a labor leader, what is he doing amongst a bunch of farmers who have nothing in common with the demands of labor?

Is he choosing the present impropitious farming conditions to inflame his hearers against law and order?

What does the U. F. slogan of 'Equity' mean to a man of his calibre? Nothing but a handy cloak for his real intentions.

Lastly why is Henry Spencer, U. F. A. nominee, allowing himself to be spoken for, by such a notorious character?

The madness of government supporters choosing a lawyer for their candidate looks like the highest form of sanity compared with the sort of camp following allowed by the U. F. party.

Better open the door to decent citizens and shut the door tight against the Soviet idea.

Come along Mr Spencer, be true to the traditions of the race you spring from, a race which never yet tolerated anything underhand knowingly—stiffen your backbone, and free yourself of this latest snake in the grass. For no matter how he may tickle the fancy of the alien-minded with his visions of a soviet paradise, he is losing you votes of the sort that count, every time he opens his mouth on the public platform.

It's up to you.

ATNTI-SOAPBOX

A ladder feed in a fountain pen assures a steady and even flow of ink. This is very noticable in the Swan Fountain pen. The Swan manufacturers control the right to this feed—immediately you set the Swan pen point on paper it starts to work. No fussing and priming is needed to start the ink. It just starts. It can't help start because the pen is made mechanically perfect, and the ladder feed will let only so much ink down at a time. No more or less.

A Swan fountain pen is always a very acceptable Xmas present. We have them from $2.75 to $12.50. We also have thee "Fyne Poynt" pencil made by the Swan Manufacturing Co. in prices from $1.50 to $5. The advantage in giving either of those useful articlees is that they are all the year round workers. They will be used not only Xmas day or Xmas week but every week in many years. The Chauvin Pharmacy.

Airlie Donation
To Bible Society

The following letter was received by Mrs. Frank Cargill as an acknowledgement of the sum of $11.50 which was collected at Airlie and forwarded by her to the Canadian Bible Society.

Edmonton, Alta, Nov. 2 1921.

Dear Mrs. Cargill,—

I wish to than you for your letter enclosing the collector's book friends in Airlie. This is very encouraging as a beginning and I am grateful to you and all who assisted you in making the collections. The because the society depends on these to carry on its great work all over the world, but we value the interest shown and aroused by the collectors as they do their work. I am sure that they have had a blessing in doing their bit for the extension of God's kingdom.

I am not sure as to whether you have a regular Branch with officers and I would be glad if you would write all about Airlie and what has been done in connection with the Bible Society there. Perhaps you would be kind enough to fill in the enclosed report form as best you can and let me have it at your convenience.

With renewed thanks, and all good wishes, I am,

Yours sincerely,
CHARLES W. MCKIM,
District Secretary,
